GRAYLING CONTRACTS FOR CHAUTAUQUA

ASSURES HIGH CLASS MUSIC, DRAMATICS, LECTURES NEXT SUMMER.

Miss Ethel Irwin of Chicago, advance representative for the Community Chautauqua Bureau of Chicago and Indianapolis, was in the city for several days past, booking a contract for a five days Chautauqua concert for Grayling in August or July of next summer.

The Community Chautauqua Bureau is not new here having served with two chautauquas in previous years. It is because of the high quality of the Community Bureau that their offer of a program for next summer was readily accepted.

This means that Grayling is in the front rank in supporting such features as are of high quality—pleasing, instructive and inspirational for the larger ideals and worthwhile things in life and for the pleasure and education of our citizens.

The exact program that will be presented cannot be announced at this early date, contracts for next season's attractions are just being secured by the Bureau, and just as soon as these are definitely determined and the circuits arranged, a full detailed program will be forwarded to the local committee. Let it be assumed there will be a program that is of the highest order, consisting of dramatics, recitals, lectures and music.

The tent, seats, staging and draperies carried by the Community Bureau and lighting effects are reported to be the finest used by any Chautauqua company in the business. Everything is planned for comfort, convenience and pleasing effects, so that the audience and players may be at ease and in the kind of spirits that are conducive to success and pleasure.

Not the least in interest with the Chautauqua will be the Junior Chautauqua. This will be conducted daily when the little folks will be entertained with stories and entertainments, presented by persons who understand children and who know how to gain their interest and attention. This part of the Chautauqua is going to be well worth waiting for by the little tots of this community.

Financially, the Chautauqua business has never been a grand success for local committees that have been generous and enterprising enough to back up the contract by their signatures. The Chautauqua costs $1200 for next summer, with the added necessity of furnishing a piano and also the electricity for the week. To bring to our people talent that is of the highest class is the sole idea of the committee, and there seems to be no better way for doing so than by the Chautauqua. There are up to this time 31 signers to the contract. All good, reliable business men. Five of these are of Frederic, where there will be a special committee appointed to care for the handling of tickets and publicity for that part of the county. The names of the signers and the officers of the board of directors will be published at an early date.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TAKING FARM SURVEY.

Since there is misunderstanding on the part of some farmers in this locality as to the usefulness of the information as to hog production and crop acreages, obtained from the card distributed by the rural mail carriers, Postmaster Bates has requested the Avalanche to publish the following statement furnished him by the United States Department of Agriculture.

"These surveys are made with the aid of the rural carriers, who either distribute the cards to a certain number of farmers along their routes, with the request that these be filled out, or the carrier fills out the card himself by interviewing the farmer. The carrier is instructed to get information from farms which will give a good average picture of sample of farms on his route, big and little, good or poor, owned and rented."

If a fair sample of all farms is returned in each State, figures for these farms should show the same changes as all farms. It is impossible to take an actual census enumeration of all farms each year, so changes in production and acreage each year must be estimated for samples. The nearer these samples are to exact, the more correct will be the estimates.

The need and value of such information as to actual production and agriculture in general hardly need be stressed. Without dependable information as to actual production and trends of production both of livestock and crops more balanced production and market distribution are impossible.

The Department of Agriculture is the best qualified agency to undertake such work, but the accuracy of its estimates depends upon the accuracy of the returns made by the farmers.

The beneficial effects that such information may have upon price is shown by the level of hog prices during the winter of 1924-25 compared to the previous winter. The pig surveys of June and December 1924 showed a decided decrease in hog production in 1924 compared to 1923. Marketing, however, during the winter from the 1924 crop were almost as large as the previous winter, and in December and January were the highest on record. In spite of these heavy marketings, hog prices were from $2.00 to $3.00 per hundred higher than during the winter before. The heavy marketings were rightly interpreted as being an early marketing of a smaller number of hogs caused by a short corn crop and not as indicating a correspondingly larger number of hogs.

But unless these estimates can be kept dependable the trade will disregard them and will be guided either by private estimates or by actual marketings as these take place. Therefore, every farmer should help to make these reports accurate by making the report for his own farm complete and accurate.

DELAY IS COSTLY.

A good illustration of the cost of delay in testing for tuberculosis is shown in case of a city in another state where a tuberculin test ordinance was passed in 1915 but revoked shortly afterward for fear of causing a milk shortage. A new ordinance was adopted recently and all dairy herds supplying milk have been tested with the following results:

"Number herds tested, 41; number of reactors, 1155; number of non-reactors, 920; percentage of tuberculosis, 55.6; number of herds in which every animal reacted, 3; number of herds in which no animal reacted, 4; percentage of carcasses condemned on postmortem examination, 29.2; percentage of carcasses passed for sterilization, 6; percentage of no-lesion cases, 2.6. All reactors were sold under a contract at $15.00 per head, and practically all of them were shipped for slaughter. Out of one shipment of 203 head, which included the three herds in which every member reacted, 101 carcasses were condemned as unfit for food. The largest herd tested contained 239 animals, 203 of which reacted."

SPORTSMEN GIVING ANNUAL BANQUET

IZAAK WALTON FEAST DEC. 3. AFFAIR AT B. OF T. CLUB.

Grayling Chapter of Izaak Walton League will hold their annual banquet Thursday evening, December 3rd at the Board of Trade Club rooms.

These functions have always been pleasant and are usually looked forward to with much anticipation by those who enjoy hunting and fishing, especially those who are interested in seeing these good things preserved for the coming generations.

President Philip G. Zalsman, says that every sportsman in the county is invited to the banquet, and hopes that there will be a big attendance. He wants to hear the ideas of others on conservation and on hunting and fishing, and "tell about the things you do like and the things you don't like."

The banquet will be served at six p. m., and the price will be one dollar. Tickets should be secured early, that the necessary arrangements may be made for seating at the tables. Tickets will be on sale at all barber shops and drug stores.

James McGillivray of the Department of Conservation has been invited to present some of his new motion pictures, depicting outdoor life. This will be a most welcome feature; Mac always has some fine pictures. And other speakers will also be present.

Don't miss this big time. Bring your friends, and don't forget to get your tickets early.

FROM UNKNOWN "SCRUB" TO STAR.

Ann Arbor, Nov. From an unknown "scrub" to star of the first rank in 12 months—this is the record of Benny Friedman, University of Michigan quarterback, mentioned the length and breadth of the country as All-American material.

One year ago, when the Wolverines suffered defeat at the hands of Illinois, Michigan's problem was to revamp her team for the four remaining games on the schedule. The most radical change was the introduction of Friedman as a halfback, solely on account of his ability to pass rather accurately. How Friedman then passed Michigan to victory over Wisconsin is now football history and it is safe to say that Benny will figure prominently in the Michigan cast all this year and next.

The graduation of quarterback Rockwell last June left the Wolverines without a pilot. So Yost decided to give Friedman a chance and Benny added to his reputation as a passer that of being one of the headiest quarterbacks ever to don mole skins. Unlike many another able passer, plunger and all-around ground gainer, Friedman does not hog the spot-light. In the Navy-Michigan game, with a sure chance to score himself, he chose to hand the ball to Miller, his understudy, and let the latter get the credit for the touch-down. Friedman won't talk about himself and, unlike many a collegian, has been known to blush on occasion.

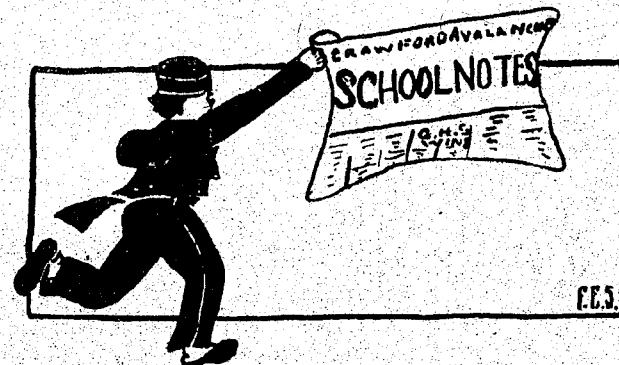

After the Navy game, October 31, Friedman's first act was to put in a long-distance call to Cleveland so as to reassure his mother that he had come through the game unharmed.

For some time, Friedman has been second in the Big Ten from the standpoint of total points scored.

VISITS NORTHEASTERN MICHIGAN.

"Au Sable—The River," by C. St. John, of Berrien Springs, is the subject of an article in the November issue of the National Sportsman. Mr. St. John, now 45 years of age, lived in Grayling when a boy and he takes his wife, son and daughter on a trek back to the old neighborhood. In his article he mentions Mt. Pleasant, Rosebush, Clare, Harrison, Houghton Lake, Roscommon, Grayling, the State Fish Hatchery, the AuSable, Frederic, Gaylord, Indian River, Mackinaw City, Mackinac Island, etc. He describes the AuSable as Michigan's greatest river. He gives considerable space to Leon and "Rube" Babbitt, Grayling guides.

Some of the parents visited school last Friday the 10-B English class gave one that caused a great deal of enthusiasm. It was resolved that pupils should do all of their studying in school. A Snow-Ball Fight

Norma Wheeler—5A

One day last winter some friends and I were snow-ball fighting with some of our enemies. We had a fort in which we kept our snow balls. The snow-balls were packed until they were almost as hard as rocks. First we were heard slaps and then cracks. We had to be sure of our aim. We would miss them. All at once we heard a crack and then came from one of our enemies. "Boo Hoo; I'll be my dad on you." We all laughed when we heard this. Then there was a hop and back to the fort for snow balls. We dodged back and forth while snow-balls went as fast as we could make them. Then all of a sudden we ran out of snow-balls. But we couldn't get discouraged that easy. We went to work to make some more, but we did not wait to get a big supply but ran back and forth throwing and packing, then we would sneak up behind someone and hit them a whack. We made our snow-balls big and hard. We fought on until my mother came out and called us in to tea, including our enemies.

PRESIDENT OUTLINES PROGRAM AT GOTHAM

Calls on Nation to Join World Court—Pledges Aid to Business.

New York. — President Coolidge charted the course he would have our nation pursue at home and abroad while he is at the helm.

He extolled America's part in the rehabilitation of Europe as the greatest world service of the last five years and bade us go on with that great work.

He called on the United States to join the World Court in order to promote "the enlightening processes of civilization."

And he proclaimed a new national program of economic development signaling a radical departure from past policies of government interference with the great corporations.

The President was addressing 1,200 of the foremost business men of the East and their guests at the one hundred fifty-seventh annual dinner of the New York State Chamber of Commerce, an ancient organization that had attained its twenty-first year when our federal government was born.

These distinguished captains of industry and commerce did not conceal their approval of the utterances of the Executive which they interpreted as an assurance that they are not to be persecuted under the Coolidge regime. For they heard the President declare a new deal.

The trusts have been busted and big business chastened. In the view of Mr. Coolidge. We now turn our backs on the destructive processes attending the extirpation of special privilege and enter a period of constructive economic development which the President doubts not will greatly increase even the unprecedented prosperity which he finds the country enjoying.

In his address the President said: "In 1920 wages were 100 per cent above the prewar rates and commodities were 120 per cent above. Last year commodities were only 57 per cent above the prewar rate, while wages were 120 per cent above. The wage-earner receives more, while his dollar will buy more. This is solid progress."

The President's program of that constructive national development comprises these items:

1. Development of inland waterways.
2. Consolidation of the railroads into a few great systems.
3. Improved railway terminal distribution of commodities.
4. Reorganization of the government departments in the interest of economy and efficiency.
5. Further extension of electrification.
6. Elimination of waste in industry and commerce.

In the direction indicated by this national program "lies not only increased economic progress," Mr. Coolidge said, "but the maintenance of that progress against foreign competition. There is still plenty of work for business to do."

Queen Alexandra was born in 1844, a daughter of the late King Christian XI of Denmark. Her sister is dowager empress of Russia and her brother the late King George I of Greece. London.—Dowager Queen Alexandra of England, mother of King George and widow of King Edward VII, is seriously ill. She is eighty years old. The doctors report that the queen mother suffered a severe heart attack and that there is little change in her condition.

AILMENTS OF YOUNG GIRLS

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound School Teacher's Experience

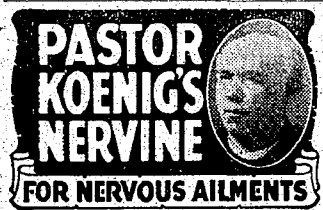

Evanson, Wyoming.—"A few years ago I had troubles every month such as girls often have, and would suffer awfully every time. I was teaching school and it made it hard for me as I had to go to bed for two or three days. One day my mother suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it did wonders for me. In the course of a year I married and after my first baby was born I got up too soon and it caused a displacement. This troubled me so that I could hardly walk or do my housework. I knew what the Vegetable Compound did for me before so I took it again. It strengthened me and now I have five little kiddies. The eldest is six, the baby is five months old and I have two boys three years old and a boy of five years. I do all my own housework, washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I owe my health to your wonderful medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."—Mrs. VERNENA CARPENTER, 127 2nd Avenue, Evanson, Wyoming.

The opponent was criticizing in the chamber of deputies, a bill brought in by Briand's friend. ## Pimples

What can I do?

"Oh, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?"

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

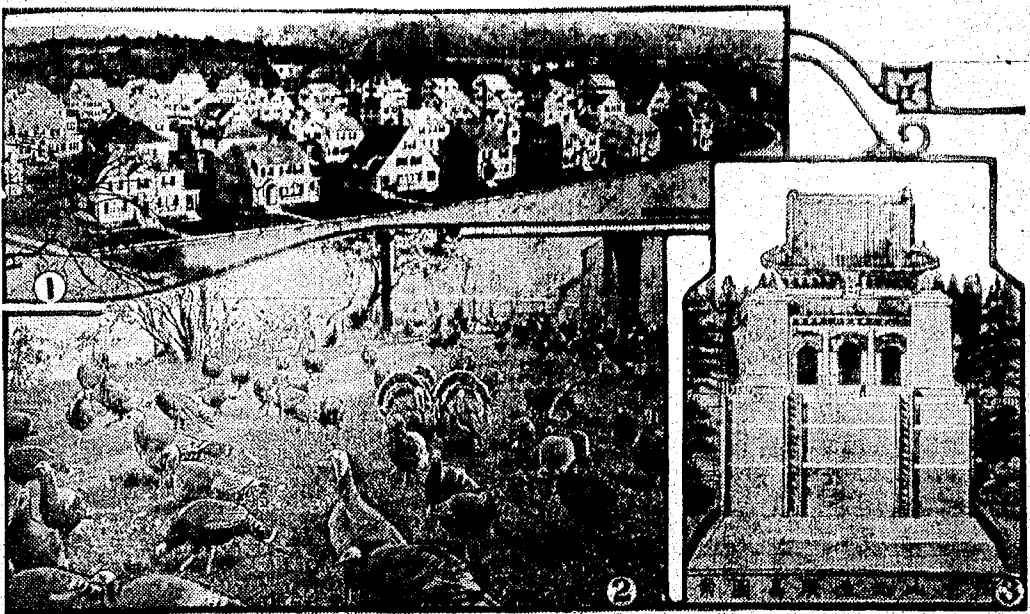

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous, red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It nourishes your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you up with new life and energy.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Mrs. Lansdowne's Charges Sifted by the Shenandoah Board of Inquiry.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

MRS. ZACHARY LANSDOWNE seemed to be having considerable difficulty last week in substantiating her charges that the Navy department, through Capt. Paul Foley, then judge advocate, sought to induce her to testify falsely before the Shenandoah board of inquiry. The widow of the airship's commander repeated her story of Captain Foley's call on her and his sending of an outline of what she should say, and in a general way all this was corroborated by others. But it was brought out that it was part of the judge advocate's duty to interview prospective witnesses, and Mrs. George W. Steele, who carried the Foley memorandum to Mrs. Lansdowne, said that on reading it "she manifested no indignation and said nothing whatever about any sinister purpose, nothing indicating any idea that the memorandum represented any attempt to influence her testimony."

A copy of the memorandum was produced by the judge advocate. It reads:

"Immediately subsequent to the loss of the U. S. S. Shenandoah I felt it my duty to say for my husband things which he was no longer in a position to say for himself; that he was opposed to sending the Shenandoah on the midwestern flight during the thunderstorm period and had protested so doing to the Navy department. My husband regarded the Shenandoah as a man of war. He was ready at all times to take the ship out for military maneuvers, but was opposed to using her for nonmilitary duty."

"Had I known at the time I accepted the invitation of the court to appear before it that the correspondence in the case would have been introduced into the record of the court as it since has I would not have accepted the invitation of the court to appear."

"As things now are I am not only willing but would prefer to leave the entire matter to the judgment of the court in which I have every confidence."

Mrs. Lansdowne admitted that the only statement in this memorandum to which she took exception is that "her husband was ready at all times to take the ship out for military maneuvers but was opposed to using her for nonmilitary duty." She said if she had given such testimony she would have made her husband out an ignorant fool. Even on military maneuvers he was not ready to go at all times, regardless of the weather, and the use of the phrase "nonmilitary duty," she said, was camouflage for "political flights."

Efforts to involve Secretary Wilbur, made by Mrs. Lansdowne and her uncle, Dr. W. B. Mason, were not impressive.

Joseph E. Davies, late of Wisconsin, was counsel for Mrs. Lansdowne and he created a tumult by insisting loudly on his right to be present and to advise his client in court. He was ejected once but crept back in and caused more disturbance. Captain Foley took the stand in his own defense, and denied that he had tried to influence Mrs. Lansdowne's testimony.

TESTIMONY for the defense in the Mitchell court-martial was completed and arguments were begun. A number of aviators were called to tell of unwarranted hazards in night flying and bombing tests, and then Admiral William S. Sims, retired, was called. He told the court that many of the higherups in the navy never had attended the naval war college at Newport and consequently were "hidebound, ignorant and uneducated." He asserted the capital ship of the future is the swift airplane carrier and that an adequate air force would be the salvation of the country in case of attack by sea.

Concerning the Shenandoah, Admiral Sims said: "If the motive of a flight is all military—if, for example, the navy says, 'We want you to go out and get storm risk data'—that is all right," the admiral testified. "If the motive is to pass over fair grounds, it is all wrong."

"In view of the loss of the Shenandoah, what is your view of the motive in that case?" he was asked.

"It did not seem to me correct at all," Capt. Anton Helmen, the Zeppelin expert from Germany, was asked about the reduction of the Shenandoah's automatic safety valves from 18 to 10, and replied: "If I had known that before the Shenandoah made her fatal flight everybody may rest assured that I would have kicked up a hell of a row. The effect of the reduction of the valves was to reduce the safety of the ship from 100 per cent to zero. It made the Shenandoah absolutely unsafe."

PREMIER MUSSOLINI, now more than ever the master of Italy, opened the new session of parliament with a remarkable address in which he presented his budget of new laws which, he frankly declared, were intended to do away with the present parliamentary form of government, "inadequate for modern life," and to replace it with Fascism. He said it was impossible to hinder Fascism from the interior, and he warned all other nations that if menaces to his planned regime came from abroad the Italian nation would arise as one man. The deputies were given the tip not to waste much time in discussing the proposition because Fascist discipline would not tolerate it.

Chief of Mussolini's new measures are these:

1. A law to establish the ancient podestà instead of mayors, which gives the central government control even of the local political machines.

2. A law increasing the powers of the premier not only over every department of the government, but even not allowing the order of the day to be discussed in the chamber without his approval.

3. A law providing for confiscation of property and deprivation of the citizenship for Italians abroad "calumniating" Italy or its government.

4. A law creating co-operative boards of arbitration between capital and labor.

The premier also has called on all the Italian people to subscribe toward the payment of the debt to the United States, the funding arrangement for which was signed in Washington. American bankers evidently approve of Italy's condition and prospects, for a group of them, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., last week arranged a loan to the Italian government of $100,000,000 to assist in the restoration of the gold standard and to retire the $50,000,000 credit extended by Morgan to three Italian banks of issue last June for stabilization of the lira. The loan will take the form of bonds bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent.

CONDITIONS in Syria are going from bad to worse, from the French standpoint, for the rebellious Druses are growing in strength and last week shifted the scene of their greatest activity to the Lebanon region. The French had armed a large body of Christian volunteers there, but these were badly defeated by the Druses, who captured a number of towns and a vast amount of loot. Sidon, on the Syrian coast, was threatened and the American missionaries there asked that a warship be sent from Beirut.

PRACTICALLY without opposition the British house of commons ratified the Locarno treaties. Mr. Chamberlain, in opening the perfunctory debate, dissipated the fear that Great Britain would be committed by the pacts to go to war against its wishes. Replying to the charge that Russia had not been brought into the League of Nations at Locarno, he said the fault, if any, lay with Russia and not with the western powers. "The Russian government," he continued, "is not prepared to join the league on any terms whatever, its fundamental objection being that the league is a society of nations based on a system which is not compatible with the view of the soviet government of what the world should be."

INVESTIGATION by government agents of the alleged national beer syndicate, the Chicago end of which is alleged to have been doing a business of $800,000 a month, resulted last week in the indictment of the Boston & Maine railway and 24 individuals. This, according to the district attorney at Chicago, is merely the "first batch." Among the individuals named are two policemen, several traffic managers, three prohibition agents, a number of brewery managers and employees and David J. Allen, former purchasing agent of the Atlanta penitentiary, who has been mixed up in other liquor scandals. Allen is described as the leader of the entire conspiracy, and it is said he has fled to Europe.

The treasury last Wednesday revoked, effective December 31, every outstanding alcohol permit issued under the national prohibition law and an investigation was started to determine whether any of them should be renewed. The news of this action created consternation among the numerous concerns that have been drawing out alcohol vastly in excess of their normal and legal needs.

The house ways and means committee, following the advice of General Andrews, voted to impose a new tax of one-tenth of one cent a gallon on near beer and other cereal beverages, as a means of providing for inspection of all breweries.

OVER the protests of Chairman Green and most of the Democratic members, the ways and means committee voted retroactive repeal of increases in estate tax rates of the 1924 revenue act, effective on estates of all persons dying since that law became effective on June 2, 1924. If this feature of the new law is accepted by congress the government will have to refund millions of dollars already collected.

GOVERNOR SORLIE of North Dakota has appointed George B. Nye to be United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of E. F. Ladd. But as Mr. Nye was a supporter of the La Follette ticket in the last Presidential campaign and might be expected to line up with the senate radicals, it is predicted that his seat will be fought by the regular Republican senators. The opposition will be based on a precedent established early in the Wilson administration when the senate refused to seat Frank P. Glass, appointed by the governor of Alabama to fill a vacancy, because Alabama's laws fail to provide specifically for such an appointment. The North Dakota statute authorizes the governor to fill vacancies in state offices, but fails to mention the office of senator.

WHAT might have been a terrible tragedy was narrowly averted when the Clyde liner Lenape caught fire at sea off the Delaware coast. After a thirty-mile dash, she steamed into the harbor at Lewes, surrounded by other boats, and 367 persons, comprising all but one of her passengers and the entire crew, were taken off in safety and just in the nick of time. One man had jumped overboard and was drowned. Damage estimated at $3,000,000 was done by a conflagration that swept the Mississippi river docks at New Orleans. Great quantities of merchandise were consumed and for a time the wholesale business district of the city was threatened.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, addressing the New York State Chamber of Commerce, outlined his program of economic developments, including inland waterways, railroad consolidations, further economy and efficiency in government departments, further extension of electrification, and elimination of waste in industry and commerce. He also urged that America join the World court.

HERE are a few brief items worthy to be recorded:

D. C. Stephenson, former Klan dragon of Indiana, was sentenced to life imprisonment for his part in the death of Madge Oberholtzer.

George H. Jones, who started in business as office boy, was elected chairman of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

General Feng and Marshal Chang of China signed a peace agreement.

Twelve soviet officials were sentenced to death at Moscow for graft.

Amundsen's first drifting exploit was in the Glen to make the westward passage of the Arctic above North America. He completed the voyage in 1906. Next, in the Fram, he went to the other end of the earth, and succeeded in discovering the South pole, December 18, 1911.

On May 21, 1925, Amundsen and five others hopped off in two planes from the Spitzbergen islands to fly over the pole. The six returned June 18 in one of the planes, the other having been wrecked 150 miles from the pole.

A BOY'S OPINION OF THANKSGIVING

Mary Graham Bonner

WHEN I go out to parties I never eat all I can. Yet they say that I must grow So I'll become a strong man.

When I go out to dinner I have to be too polite Yet if I don't grow a lot I'll be a miserable sight.

Once a year I get a chance And add strength and height this way.

I don't think boys could ever be men Were it not for Thanksgiving Day!

WHAT THANKSGIVING SHOULD MEAN TO US

Pilgrim Men and Women at Plymouth Set Example.

THANKSGIVING is a day unique in the list of holidays—not perhaps, so unique in its conception as in the meaning which the day has come to have. We think of it as a day of getting together. The dinner is its symbol. Faith in the goodness of God and a reverent and formal prayer of thanksgiving for His bounty is its avowed purpose.

But its greatest profit to us may come from the thoughts it invokes of that little band of hardy men and women who knew what it meant to face hunger; to know hunger and stick to an appointed task. That task happened to be the opening up of that new land which was destined to provide so bountifully for you and me who have inherited it.

They were sticklers—those from whom this heritage has come down. Hardy? Yes; but with a ruggedness that was not alone a physical attribute. They experienced the primal lessons: want, fear, and the need of strife. But they stuck. And they won. That first Thanksgiving day was for them a solemn rite. If they—that band of Pilgrim men and women—could feel so honestly thankful for God's bounty as it was measured out to them at Plymouth in 1621, what one of us in this day and generation but needs to be ashamed to feel less. It was a solemn occasion, but how could they else but be happy? Let us be happy on this Thanksgiving day. But, too, let us not forget—Frank H. Sweet.

Thanksgiving Praise

Alone, dear Lord, of all my nights and days, I cannot sing Thy goodness, far too vast For my weak utterance. Let me humbly cast Upon the sweep of universal praise My single tribute; let the morning raise My anthems for me: let the storied past.

In varied hallelujahs nobly massed, Exalt the infinite story of Thy ways. Where'er the blossoms glaze in loveliness Reflect Thy beauty, or the bird's bright song Has holy skill the Father's love to bless. Or where the shining stars through ages long The soul of worship silently express. Grant me a lowly place in that thanksgiving throng.

—Amos R. Wells, in the Continent.

"Millie's tea party was quite a failure." "Yes—She served tea!"—Harper's Bazar.

The Right Breed
This summer, for the first time, Ellen lived on a farm. The rest of her four years had been spent in an Indianapolis flat.

Naturally, she was much interested in the farm animals, especially the cows. So, when some Holsteins which her father had just purchased came slowly down the lane one evening, Ellen watched them almost breathlessly. As the last one passed, she jumped and exclaimed ecstatically: "Oh, mamma! Every last one of those new cows had a cross-word puzzle on her!"

"Yes, Billie, and I felt old. No appetite, couldn't sleep nights—one day just like another, and none of them any good. I knew constipation was at the bottom of it, but it seemed the more laxatives I took the worse I got. Then one day I saw Nujol giving Nujol to my little grandson. The doctor had prescribed it for the baby, but I found out it's just the thing for old fellows like me, too."

"I tell you, Billie, it keeps me feeling fine all the time. My appetite's back and I sleep like a child."

"This is a dead town." You hear this statement every now and then from parties that are half or three-quarters dead themselves and want to make it appear that all the inhabitants of the village are in the same condition. There is no better way known to kill a small town than to keep repeating "it's dead." After a while these lugubrious words begin to mean something to some people, and they really get to believing that while they live the village is dead. The real facts are this village, as compared with others of its class in southern Michigan, is very much alive.—Jonesville Independent.

Sousa have listened and marveled. All classes of music will be played and sung by Victor's own incomparable artists. No matter what you plan to do next Monday, do not miss this demonstration. You will never forget it.

HEALTH SUNDAY NOVEMBER 29TH.

A nation wide observance on the part of the churches and clergy of America will characterize the last Sunday of this month which has been set aside as Health Sunday. In a vast number of churches a portion of the sermon hour will be given over to a discussion of the crusade against tuberculosis, which is being waged by the national, state, and local tuberculosis associations. The long story of the plague, acknowledged to be the most terrible in history because so unrelenting, will be told. The scientific aspects of the fight against the disease and its philanthropic aspects will be touched upon. Clergymen will almost unanimously, from the pulpits of all denominations unite in urging upon their people the importance of giving their support to the hosts arrayed against tuberculosis.

Health Sunday in Michigan has the active endorsement not only of the clergy but of Governor Groesbeck who says, "In the daily round of our busy lives it sometimes happens that unintentionally forget our obligations to the afflicted. It, therefore, seems fitting to me that Sunday, November 29th, should be set aside in Michigan, as I understand it is throughout the nation as a day for considering in our churches man's great scourge, Tuberculosis."

PRICE-CLARK NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED IN DETROIT

St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon of last week, when Miss Kathryn Edna Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Clark of this city became the bride of Mr. Andrew James Price of Roscommon. The ceremony took place at three o'clock, Rev. Allen N. McAvoy officiating.

The bride was most attractive in a gown of light green silk georgette trimmed with rhinestones and seeded pearls. She wore a picture hat of gold lace, and gold and silver broad-edged slippers with hose to match. Her corsage was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. George N. Olson of this city, attended her sister as bridesmaid. She was attired in a gown of King blue velvet, with black hat and black satin slippers and silver hose. Her corsage was of pink and white roses tied with tulle to match. The bride chose for her maid of honor, Miss Viola Eichner of Detroit, who wore a frock of green silk georgette of a light shade trimmed with rhinestones. A bandeau of green tulle and corsage of roses completed her costume. Mrs. J. A. O'Rourke as matron of honor wore rose colored silk with corsage bouquet to match those worn by the bridesmaid and maid of honor. Mr. Harry Fairchild of Detroit performed the duties of bestman, while John J. Gamble, a cousin of the groom gave the bride away. Mr. J. A. O'Rourke of Detroit also attended the wedding party.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march and at their departure Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered.

At 8:00 in the evening a very elaborate banquet was served at the Elliot hotel, an exclusive hostelry of Windsor. Here the bride's chosen colors—pink and white were carried out most effectively. The bridal table was beautiful with baskets of roses which were presented to the bride. A six course dinner was served.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, that from the groom was a handsome four-strand pearl bracelet set with rhinestones. Mr. Fairchild, the groomsmen presented the bride with a lovely pearl necklace of three strands set with blue sapphires and rhinestones.

Mr. and Mrs. Price returned to Grayling Friday night and were guests of the bride's parents for a few days before going to Roscommon, where they will reside. After the holidays they expect to take an extended southern trip through Florida and other cities in the south.

8 INJURED IN AUTO WRECKS

MAN DRIVES CAR INTO SIDE OF LOCOMOTIVE AT VANDERBILT

Three Of Injured Persons Brought To Mercy Hospital

Two serious auto accidents took place near Gaylord last Friday night in which eight people were injured. At Vanderbilt, eight miles north of Gaylord, about 12:30, the night train on the Michigan Central going south had made its stop and received its signal to proceed when an automobile occupied by five men came down the street at a speed estimated at about 50 miles an hour, hitting the locomotive broadside, totally wrecking the automobile and breaking the eccentric and knocking the pistons from the engine.

West Sudman, one of the occupants of the automobile, had his leg broken and was brought to Grayling Mercy hospital. Tebe Londo, of Atlanta, Pete Grovowski, of Metz, Clyde Hunt of Hillman, received many minor bruises while the fifth member of the party escaped injury. For more than an hour the train crew worked in extracting the auto from the engine and it was necessary to send to Mackinaw City for an engine to complete the run to Detroit, making the train more than three hours late.

Johannesburg Parties Injured In Auto Accident

Returning to their homes at Johannesburg, Saturday afternoon William Waters and son, Bert, living on a farm near that village and Neil Downing, son of the hotel keeper of that place, were hit by the gasoline car on the Bay City, Gaylord & Alpena railroad, two miles east of Gaylord. Mr. Waters had both legs broken, Bert escaped with minor injuries and Neil Downing was hurt internally. Waters and Downing were brot to the hospital here.

Young Waters who was driving the car, could not see the approaching train until they were upon the track and instead of giving more gas to his car as the train was upon them used his emergency killing his engine. The automobile was totally wrecked.

R. GILLET AGAIN HEADS B. OF T.

At the meeting of the board of directors of Grayling Board of Trade held Tuesday evening, Robert H. Gillett was re-elected president for the ensuing year being the unanimous choice of the directors. T. P. Peterson was re-elected vice president and B. E. Smith, secretary-treasurer.

The new standing committees for the ensuing year will be appointed soon, when the list will be published. There is considerable work laid out for the Board for the year and the best kind of cooperation on the part of the officers and members are essential if the Board is going to "get anywhere" this year. Secretary B. E. Smith is especially to be commended for the large amount of work he has done, for which he receives no remuneration whatever, and the Board of directors are very grateful that he consented to act again this year.

Let's have a banner year; an increased membership and more concerted action and see if we cannot, before another year closes, bring in to our community an increase in prosperity.

RESCUE ALL BUT ONE FROM BURNING SHIP

367 Persons Saved From Liner Lenape—Craft Ablaze From Stem to Stern.

Lewes, Del.—Rescued from the blazing Clyde liner Lenape while the flames from its flaring superstructure it up the water of the Delaware breakwater, 367 persons, all but one of its passengers and crew, were safely landed here at the end of a frantic 40-mile dash from the sea.

One man, Robert Leverton, sixty years old, of 17 Factory place, Wilmansett, Mass., lost his life. He leaped from the burning vessel when flames burst through the deck and was drowned. His body, with a life belt about the knees, was found by a fisherman.

The ship is believed to be almost a total loss. In the early morning hours, while passengers and crew leaped from her or slid down lines to the safety of rescue boats, she was swept with flames from stem to stern. She was scuttled inside the breakwater.

More than a dozen persons, most of them passengers, were hurt or suffered from exposure. None was seriously injured. Many of those brought ashore, including a number of women and children, were scantily clad. The Presbyterian church was thrown open to receive them.

Army-Navy Trials Clash Over Expert Air Witness

Washington.—The army court-martial trying Col. William Mitchell on charges of insubordination and the navy court of inquiry into the Shenandoah disaster overlapped in their investigation, with a clash between the two hearings over which should have the right to hear Maj. Frank M. Kennedy as an aircraft expert. The court-martial issued the first subpoena.

Major Kennedy was questioned by the Mitchell court-martial as to many technical details of aviation, supporting Colonel Mitchell's theory that the loss of the Shenandoah was due to a defective effect on the dirigible's framework.

Admiral William S. Sims, retired, told the court-martial that the trouble with the navy was ignorance on the part of high ranking officers, due to lack of modern special training such as could be given by the naval war college.

Flames Sweep French City; Loss Estimated at $400,000

Paris.—Fire destroyed the town of Toulon, a seaport in southern France. The loss was estimated at $400,000.

The fire started in the old arsenal and soon reached the surrounding buildings and great piles of old wooden boxes and refuse, lighting up the countryside for miles around. All efforts failed to quell the blaze, however, and soon the huge newly installed electric plant, full of new American machinery, was in flames, plunging the town into darkness.

All Alcohol Permits to Be Revoked December 31

Washington.—The government revoked, effective December 31, outstanding alcohol permits issued under the federal prohibition law. Simultaneously a sweeping investigation was begun to determine whether any or all of the permits should be renewed. The revocation decision was signed by Secretary Mellon and C. H. Nash, acting commissioner of internal revenue.

$2,000,000 Fire Destroys Docks at New Orleans

New Orleans.—Fire which broke out on the Mississippi river docks caused damage estimated at more than $2,000,000 before it was believed to have been brought under control.

Fanned by high winds, the flames threatened millions of dollars in coffee and other merchandise stored temporarily on the docks. The wholesale and business district of the city was for a time believed to be threatened.

Commons Votes 385 to 13 to Ratify Locarno Pact

London.—"These treaties do not make war impossible, but they render war infinitely more difficult," said Foreign Secretary Austen Chamberlain in the house of commons. The house was crowded to hear the foreign secretary propose the ratification of the Locarno pact.

Shortly after eleven o'clock the house of commons voted ratification of the pact by a vote of 375 to 13.

CRAWFORD CO. FIRST OVER THE TOP

The Crawford County Chapter of the American Red Cross is the first county to complete its quota of memberships of any county in Michigan and of any of the states in the central division, consisting of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Iowa.

The drive opened on Armistice day and our quota of 200 members was signed up before the day was over. Crawford county first over the top and over subscribed sounds quite like old war days.

A fine letter of congratulation has been received by our Chapter officials from the Central Division, of St. Louis, Mo.

While our membership quota is filled the local chapter is still in need of more funds with which to carry on the years work. The expenses of the county nurse are paid from the chapter funds, and much good is derived from service that is being given by the nurse.

Washington Wins Second Consecutive League Flag

Washington.—Washington captured its second American league pennant, and will face Pittsburgh, which clinched the National league title, in the world series, starting at the latter city October 7.

The American league race ended suddenly, as the champions won two games from Cleveland, while St. Louis came from behind to nose out Philadelphia, sole remaining contender, in an 11-inning contest. The Senators won the first game 4 to 3 in ten innings, and the second, 6 to 2.

It happened so quickly that apparently none but the rabid fans, who had figured out the mathematical chances of Washington and Philadelphia, were aware that the Senators had won the pennant.

Maharajah of Kashmir Dies; Hari Singh to Get Throne

London.—News reached London of the death in Kashmir of Sir Pratap Singh, maharajah of Kashmir, of the probable succession to the throne of his nephew, Sir Hari Singh, central figure of the "Mr. A" case in the London courts last year. Sir Hari was blackmailed by a gang who used as a decoy Mrs. Robinson, pretty wife of a broken racetrack gambler, and obtained $100,000 ($500,000) from the young Indian prince.

It is virtually certain that Sir Hari will succeed to the throne. The throne of Kashmir is one of the wealthiest and the country one of the most romantic regions in India. The income of the ruler is more than $5,000,000 yearly.

In 1919 Goelt married in Paris Mme. Fernanda Riabouchinsky, the former wife of Prince Nicholas Riabouchinsky of Russia.

Goelt is said to be worth about $40,000,000.

Latvia Makes Debt Agreement With U. S.

Washington.—In the midst of the important French war-debt negotiations Secretary of the Treasury Mellon paused long enough to sign a war-debt funding agreement reached with the Republic of Latvia. ## Old Shot Tower

Mrs. W. R. Painter of Carrollton, chairman of the committee on historic sites for the Daughters of 1812, is carrying on negotiations with a big lead smelting company for the acquisition of the old "shot tower" at Herculaneum, Jefferson county, Mo., overlooking the Mississippi river. From a cliff 150 feet high at this point, says the Kansas City Star, bullets were molded for use in the War of 1812 by dropping the hot pellets of lead. A painting of the "shot tower" is among the historical pictures on the walls of the state capitol. Mrs. Painter will ask that the "shot tower" be given the Daughters of 1812 to be preserved as a historic site.

The Obscure Point

The bluff old Colonel was telling a jungle story in the club coffee room. "Yes," he exclaimed dramatically, "it was in the dead of night. Outside was a roving elephant bent on destruction. I crept out and shot it dead in my pajamas."

"But, colonel, how did the thing get into your pajamas?" drawled one of his listeners.—London Weekly Telegraph.

Michigan Happenings

A 13-story town hall, to cost $3,000,000 and to provide accommodations for the Second Scientist Church, the Peninsula Club, a theater, and the Young and Chaffee Furniture Store, at Grand Rapids, is a proposal to be placed before each of these organizations at once, it was said recently. Miss Jessie Bonstelle, Detroit theater owner, has been invited to attend.

Farmers have the right, under the State laws, to prohibit hunters from trespassing on their land, the Attorney-General ruled recently. The Michigan State Farm Bureau requested an opinion relative to the case of Glen Peck, Calhoun county farmer, who started a trespass suit against George Burrows, of Battle Creek. Peck had his farm posted, Burrows, hunted on it without permission. The Calhoun prosecutor dismissed the suit on the ground that the statute does not authorize farmers to keep hunters off posted land.

About 200 member of trade unions and their guests from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Battle Creek and Lansing, attended a banquet of the American Federation of Labor at Jackson. H. H. Broach, of Washington, D. No more prosecutions will be started in Genesee county under the State law requiring registration of all firearms under 30 inches. This announcement was made at the prosecuting attorney's office at Flint after Circuit Court Judge James S. Parker had declared the law unconstitutional and dismissed a case against John Carlisle. Judge Parker ruled the law was invalid because it did not become effective until Aug. 27, while it required all registrations to be completed by July 1, last.

Potatoes will cost Detroit housewives much more than present prices before the end of winter, according to persons who, in the public mind, have been accused of manipulating the market. They predict that the high level will approximate prices just after the war, when profiteering was the thing. The big bulge is expected in February. The reason assigned is that the crop is short 40,000,000 bushels in the United States. The forecast was made by representatives of the Michigan Potato Growers' exchange and others. The exchange controls most of the production in the Michigan Potato belt. Its headquarters are here, and its slogan says: "We oppose gambling in food products."

First Crop Paid for His Land

"IN 1920," says Mr. Adolph Bellard, of St. Paul de Metis, a district in Alberta, Canada, "I had twenty-five acres of wheat, which yielded forty bushels per acre. Forty bushels per acre!

With wheat at, say, $1.50 per bushel, forty bushels give a return of $60.00 per acre.

Yet, you can buy land in Canada capable of growing the best wheat in the world for $15.00 to $20.00 per acre!

Started With $1,500.00
Now Worth $20,000.00

Adolph Bellard came to Canada from Rice Lake, Wisconsin, in 1911, with $1,500.00 capital. He settled in the "park" country of Central Alberta—mixed prairie and woodland. To-day, he is worth $20,000.00, owns a half section of fine, rich land, with good buildings and all the necessary livestock and equipment. "This is a splendid country," says he, "with plenty of water, trees and shelter for cattle, which run out all winter."
